The ABC of Cyber Security

Awareness, Behaviour, Culture

£600k - £1.15m is the average cost to a large organisation of its worst security breach of the year

£65k - £115k is the average cost to a small business of its worst security breach of the year

81% of large organisations had a security breach

60% of small businesses had a security breach

Staff-related breaches have dropped compared to a year ago.

However, staff still play a key role in security breaches

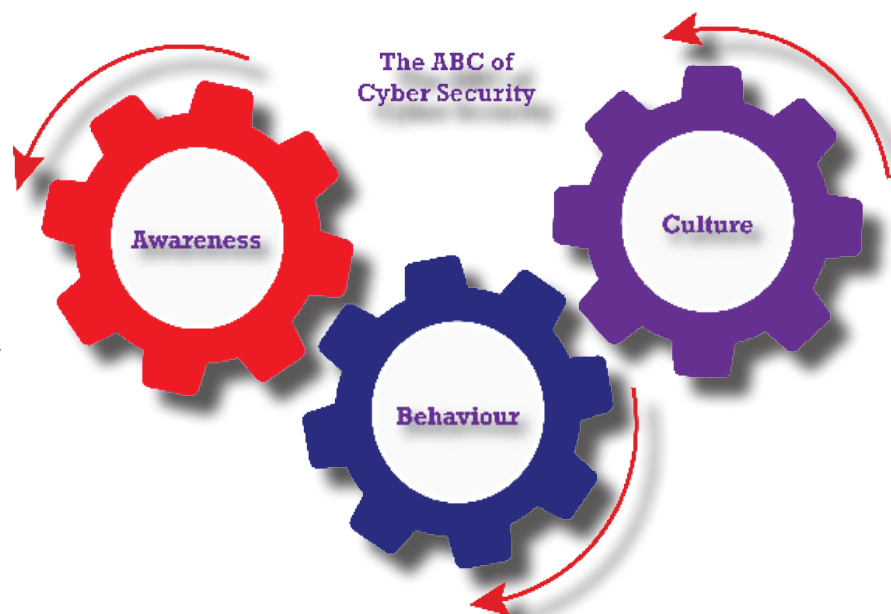

Ref: 2014 Information Security Breaches Survey, BIS

These are just some of the statistics highlighted in the 2014 Information Security Breaches Survey, yet many organisations still do not provide enough training for their staff or plan for threats and cyber-attacks.
